Bridging Kids Integrated Playgroups, Inc., is the only non-profit of its kind in New York dedicated to providing integrated programming for special needs kids (3-8 years old), their typically developing peers, siblings, and families. We offer arts & crafts, music, yoga, cooking and other exciting programs. We strongly believe in integration so that special needs children learn from peer modeling, and typically developing children learn social acceptance from an early age. Ultimately, this leads to a supportive environment and friendships not only for all of the children, but for the parents and families as well. Since we began in February, 2017, we have welcomed over 150 children and families from all over Long Island and parts of NYC. All of our programs are run by certified instructors in their respective fields including special education, music and yoga.
